

MACHINERY CLAUSE

If loss of damage is caused by any of the risks covered to any part of an insured machine which consists of several parts when being complete to be sold or used, the company shall be liable only for the actual value of the part or parts lost or damaged plus the reshipment expenses, if any, but excluding customs duties unless these are included in the sum insured in the same proportions the sum insured bears to the actual value of the property